Saturday. After checkout.

Option 1: Stay in our marina or take your boat to Gothenburg large marina Lilla Bommen to the left after Göta älvbron. Shop in Nordstan and join Gothenburg's main entertainment for the evening.

Option 2: Sail away to Björkö or HyppeIn. Small quiet harbors with guest harbor service and a small restaurant.

Sunday. After a breakfast in Gothenburg or after a lovely walk on HyppeIn we sail to Marstrand through Albrektsunds kandal from south. Marstrand is the west coast's yachting and racing centre. Marstrand itself is on an island and has a number of good restaurants as well an interesting castle and a number of up-market shops. The large marina (230 berths) fills rapidly and on a bad day the channel heaves with small boats, and that's without being there in race week. It takes 3 hour to Marstrand from Gothenburg. 1.5 hour from HyppeIn.

Pass Marstrand or stop for lunch and continue to Mollösund for the night. Have a protected harbor with all services. If it is very windy you can sail inside the islands Tjörn and Orust. Stay in Myggenäs or in Stenungsund for the night.

Monday. Sail on to Gullholmen. Stop by for lunch or a walk on the picturesque island. In the afternoon sail to Lysekil. A town in the archipelago. It has a large marina.

Did you choose to sail on the inside Tjörn and Orust You can go directly to Lysekil.

Tuesday: Sail North West to Smögen is a picture-postcard-perfect town with Sweden's longest boardwalk and a half-mile stretch of brightly colored sea huts selling lip-smacking prawn sandwiches. It also offers a beautifully situated harbour and all the amenities of a small Swedish town. If you are eating out – go for the seafood. Just off Smögen lies Hällö Island with its pink granite rocks and crystal clear waters making it an ideal place for swimming.

Wednesday. We sail south out again and visiting Kåringön. Stop for lunch on Gullholmen if you have not visited before. On Kåringön you'll find the typical fishing village and a vibrant island scene. Walking from the harbour up to the pilot's lookout tower, you pass by red fishing sheds, small outhouses and gardens that have changed little since the 19th century. A nice restaurant is Pettersons Krog in the guest harbor.

Thursday. We continue south. Visit Skärhamn or Salt and Sill Klädesholmen for lunch. In the afternoon you visit Marstrand or the pretty little island Åstol if you want a quiet evening. Åstol a cozy cafe and a restaurant in the inlet. Known for their fish smokehouse.

Friday. Sail down to Göteborg again. Have a nice Evening in our Marina or in Göteborgs City. We start check out boats between 9-10 pm. Use channel 9 on VHF radio for open Bridge.
